Appointment of Guardian for Minor Children

The Guardian is an individual or couple whom you appoint to raise your children in the event both you and your spouse should die. The guardian generally will receive distributions from your trustee for the support, maintenance, health and education of your children (provided that the trust so specifies). Whom do you want to appoint as guardian to raise your children if you and your spouse both die (while any of the children are minors)? Please indicate a successor if the person or couple initially named are unable to serve.

Guardian(s): _____

Successor(s): _____

Appointment of Executor

The Executor is the person you appoint to settle the affairs of your estate. Frequently, the surviving spouse is named as the executor. If the surviving spouse cannot or does not want to act as executor, adult children, a bank, another relative, or a very reliable and long-time friend may be named as executor. Whom do you want to appoint as executor of your estate? Please indicate successors if the first person or persons initially named are unable to serve. (Different persons can be named by each spouse.)

Appointment of Trustee

There are both family and tax reasons that a trust(s) for the benefit of your family, including your surviving spouse, may be appropriate. Based on the size of your estates, a trust may be necessary for the surviving spouses's life (rather than leaving all property outright to the surviving spouse) in order to maximize estate tax savings. If such a trust is appropriate, I will discuss this with you at greater length. The surviving spouse may be the trustee of the trust(s). If you have minor children, you should name a trustee to manage your property for your children in case both you and your spouse die. You may name an individual alone or as co-trustee with a group of individuals.

"Survivor's Trusts" If a trust during the lifetime of your surviving spouse is appropriate, whom do you want to appoint as trustee(s) or co trustee(s)? Please indicate successors if the first trustee(s) appointed is (are) unable to serve. (Different persons can be named by each spouse.)

Please indicate successors if the first trustee(s) appointed is (are) unable to serve. (Different persons can be named by each spouse.)

Additional Documentation

Other documents which complement your Wills include a Directive to Physicians, a Power of Attorney, a Medical Power of Attorney, and a Declaration of Guardianship.

DIRECTIVES TO PHYSICIANS

Directives to Physicians ("Living Will") direct that artificial life support systems be discontinued in case of a terminal illness where death is imminent because of a terminal or irreversible condition. (Drafts will be provided prior to actually signing the document.)

DURABLE POWER OF ATTORNEY

Durable Power of Attorney provides that your designated agent may handle your financial matters at any time. The Power of Attorney will not terminate upon your disability or incapacity. This is designed to avoid a costly guardianship proceeding in the event of your disability or incapacity. Usually the spouse of the incapacitated individual is named as the designated agent. Whom do you want to serve as your agent? Please indicate a successor if your designated agent is unable to serve. Also, please indicate if you feel the Power of Attorney should become effective immediately upon signing, or if you prefer that it become effective only upon your disability. (Please note that this option requires your agent to obtain a letter from your physician certifying that based on your physical/medical examination you are mentally incapable of managing your financial affairs before any powers can be exercised.)

MEDICAL POWER OF ATTORNEY

Medical Power of Attorney designates an agent who may make health care decisions for you in the event of your incapacity. This document deals with health care decisions other than life support in terminal illness (which is covered by the Directive to Physicians). Again, the spouse of the incapacitated person is usually named as the agent. Whom do you want to serve as your designated agent? Please indicate a successor if your designated agent is unable to serve.

DECLARATION OF GUARDIANSHIP

Declaration of Guardianship gives you the ability to designate those persons who you specifically want to serve as your guardian should you need one. You may also designate specific persons who you do not want to serve as your guardian. Although the Power of Attorney as well as the Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care both designed to prevent guardianships, a guardianship may still be necessary. The "guardian of the person" handles personal care matters, while the "guardian of the estate" takes care of financial matters. Whom do you want to name as your guardian? Is there anyone you do not want to serve as guardian under any circumstances?
